MARTIN COLLEGE

Thomas Martin founded Martin Female College in 1870, to fulfill the wish of his dying daughter for a girls' school in Giles County. Its first president was William K. Jones. Fire destroyed it in 1904. It became coeducational in 1937. The Methodist Church now operates it as an accredited junior college.

an education for the future...

Dedication

The session of 1956-57 was a very eventful year for Martin College. As the structure of Martin Hall rose, interest and enthusiasm increased among students, faculty, alumni, and patrons. The presence of this addition to campus facilities was an inspiration to all. The confidence the people of Tennessee have placed in the College was evidenced by the reports from the "Million for Martin" campaign begun in January. With the realization that Martin stands at the threshold of a glowing dawn, this edition of the MARTINAIRE is dedicated to the future of Martin College.

President J. Fort Fowler
B.S., Milligan College; B.D., M.A.
Vanderbilt University

To the Students of Martin College:

During the last week of March and the first week of April a glorious experience came to the personnel of Martin College. It was during these days that we moved into the new administration and instruction building. The students, faculty, and staff have been so considerate as we longed for this occasion that all of us feel that a school like Martin has something that will stand the test of time.

As you sophomores leave us this year, you will carry with you the recollections of inconveniences crowned with the experiences of the first graduating class to finish in the new building.

You who finish next year will have the privilege of enjoying one full year in school quarters second to none anywhere.

Forward will ever be our watchword!

Sincerely,

J. Fort Fowler

a diversified way of life ...

The sophomores experienced a widely diversified way of life during their two years at Martin College. They knew and loved old Martin Hall with its atmosphere of the past. They made adjustments and worked for many months in the Faculty House. Then, at last, their activities became centered around the new Martin Hall and its hope for the future.

WAY OF LIFE

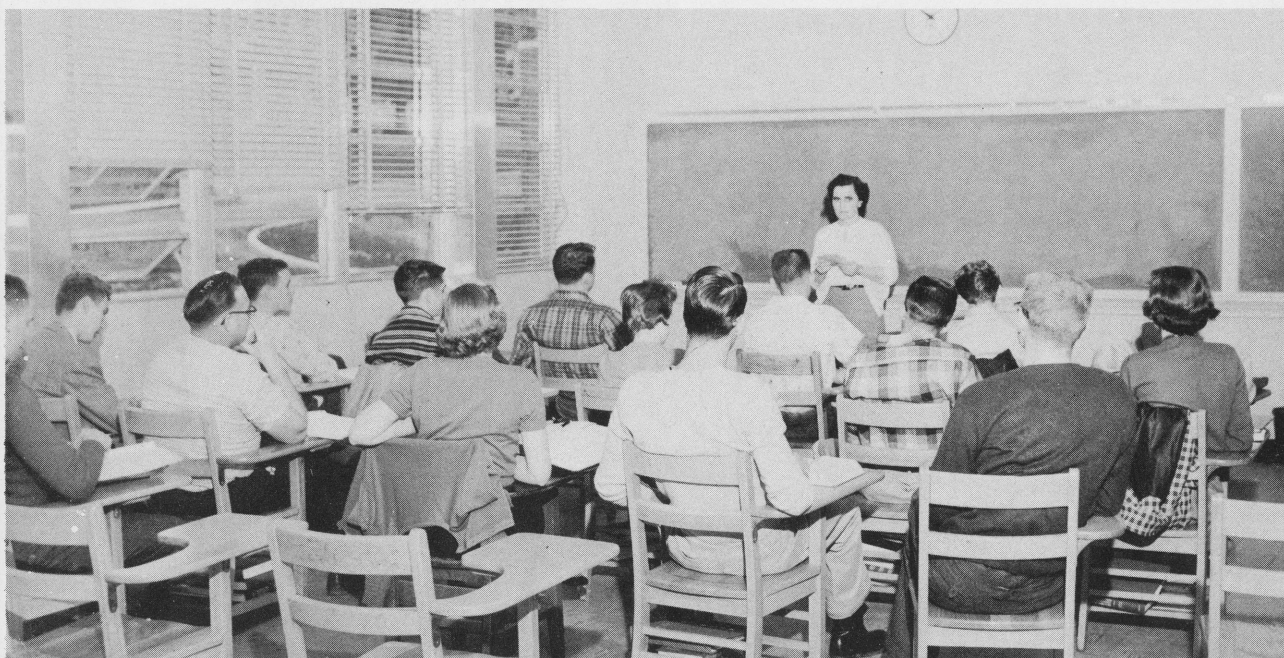

Registration Day . . . Dr. Stone can solve those academic problems that seem so impossible at times. Peggy Thompson assists Roy Glenn as Dr. Stone checks the registration cards of K Matthews and Fred Stovall.

A certain little card from Mr. Boyd, and you are a full fledged student of Martin College. Russell Looney, Larry Phillips, and Thomas Price are waiting to receive those little cards.

One of the highlights of the Fall Quarter was the annual President's Reception held in the President's Home on Flower Street. Mrs. Thurman Bass and Mrs. Andrew Ballentine served the visitors. Luann Stone, Jeanette Majors, Sandra Hooper, Bud Parmley, and Sidney Pinkston were among the students who enjoyed this event.

In April we found the President's Lady, Mrs. Fowler, conducting the religion classes in the new building.

Tennessee Hall . . . site of many wonderful experiences . . . informal gatherings before meals . . . singing around the piano . . . a peaceful moment in Faith Chapel . . . sitting on the steps in the balmy spring months . . . so many fond memories.

Helen Greenway, Jeanette Majors, Mary Alice Kelley, Willa York, and Betty June Graves visit with Mrs. Woodard. These girls compose the Dormitory Council.

Art

or Music

Jane Turrentine receives her organ lesson from Mrs. Harris. Jane realizes that exercises and scales are necessary to build technique for more advanced compositions.

The chair brigade . . . We moved from the faculty house to Martin Hall.

James . . . the most familiar face on the campus and one of the reasons for our comfortable way of life.

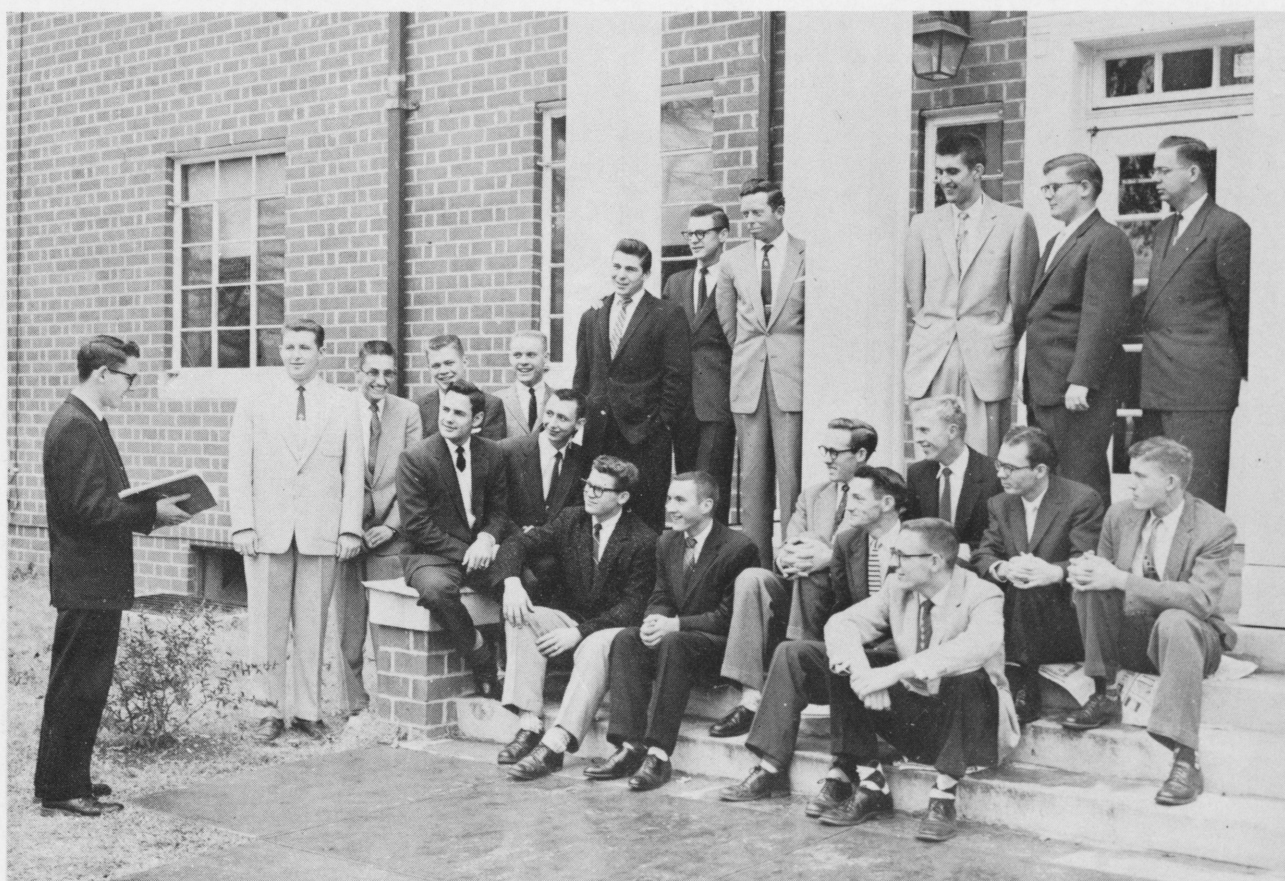

The Christmas Party for children is one of the outstanding events of the entire year. The real spirit of Christmas is quite evident in the attitude of all the students on this night.

The Christmas Dinner, annually held in the dining hall of Tennessee Hall, is attended by the majority of the faculty and students, and often several members of the alumni are present.

Men's Dormitory . . . scene of administrative activities until completion of the new building . . . rush for the morning mail . . . discussions around the table at the morning coffee breaks . . . for the residents—bull sessions, practical (and impractical) jokes, study, and occasionally sleep.

The boys, although sometimes found seated on the Men's Dormitory steps, will generally be found on the steps of Tennessee Hall. In this case, however, they are assembled for a picture.

The familiar war chant, "In . . . di . . . ans, In . . . di . . . ans." The cheerleaders have been particularly energetic this year and have lead the school spirit into many verbal expressions.

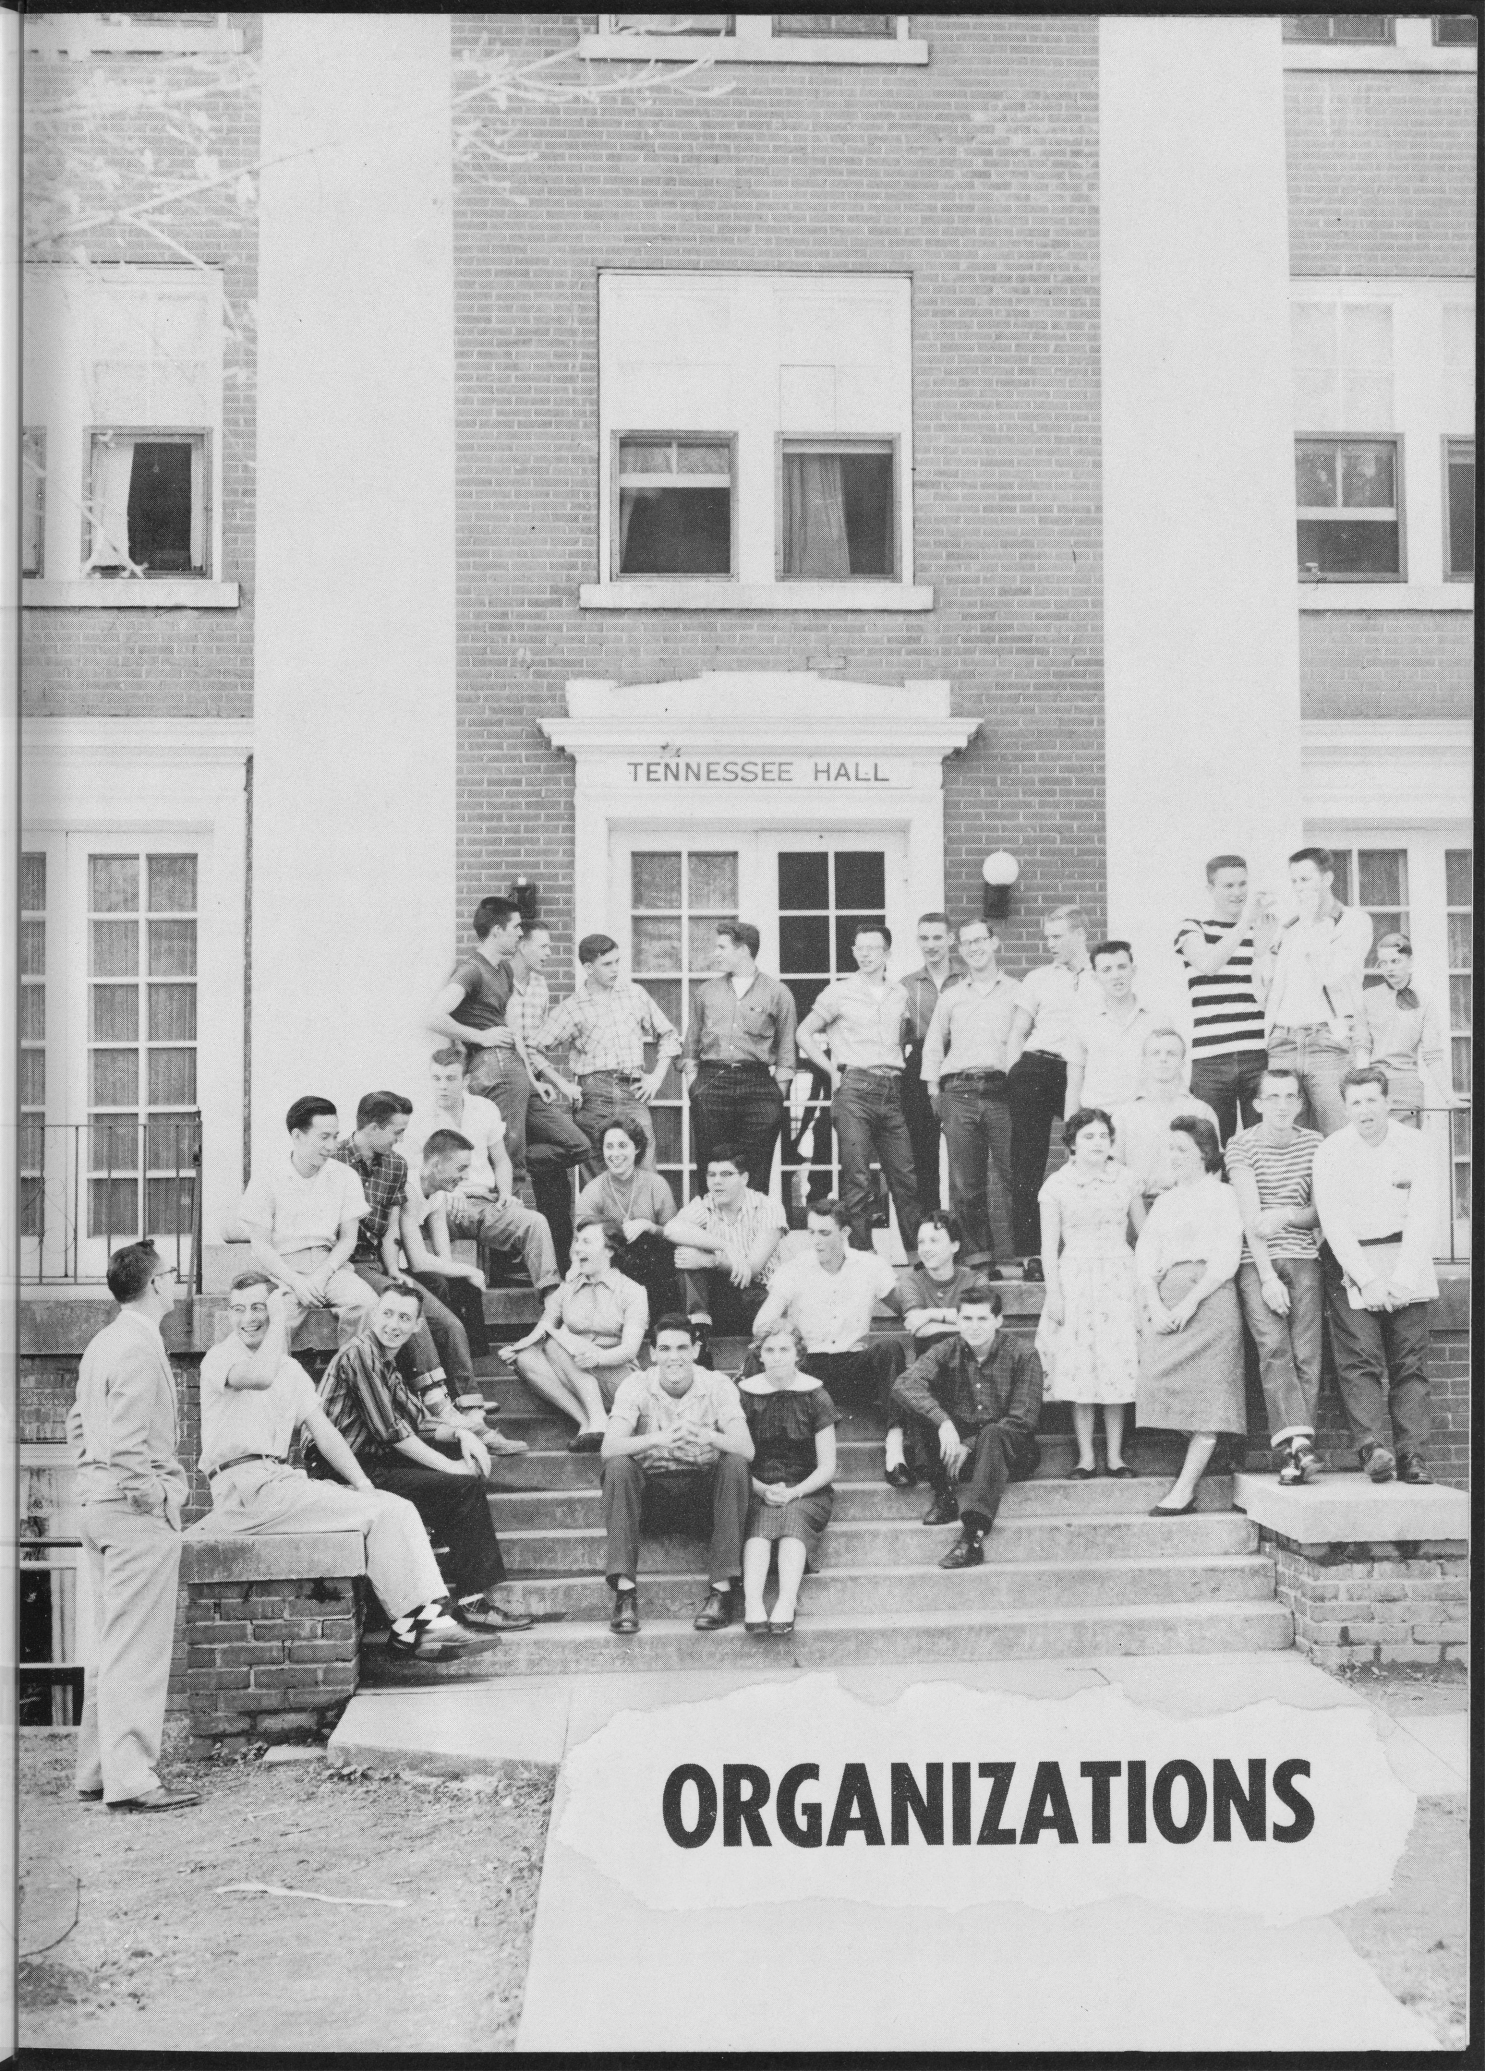

A tense moment . . . there were many of these during the basketball season.

Fall Quarter Exams always seem to be the hardest exams of the entire year. Mary Elizabeth Boyd, Betty Woodson, and Billy Hogan followed Dr. Stone's instructions carefully.

But with the exams finished, the dance was more enjoyable. Do you recognize Tom Allison, Gary Cantrell, Billy Underwood, Peggy Thompson, Sandra Hooper, Bud Parmley, Carolyn Seals, Billy Joe Cole, Lavaun Inglis, and James Abbott?

THE PREAMBLE TO THE STUDENT CONSTITUTION

We, the students of Martin College, acting under the authority granted us by the administration, do hereby establish this constitution in order to promote the ideals of self-government, to co-ordinate student activities on the campus, and to maintain good understanding and close relationship between the faculty and students.

This year the S.C.A. initiated the student-faculty coffee hour held monthly. Mrs. Stone and Mr. Veatch enjoyed their coffee as Bobby Jewell and Bettye Raines were served by Jimmy Banks and Patsy Paterson.

The purposes of the Martin College S.C.A. are to encourage the personal religious beliefs of every student, to lead each to the church of his choice, and to integrate the various groups on the campus into a genuine Christian community.

Alma Mater

*Let us greet our dear old college
With a hearty cheer!
For our hearts are ever loyal,
Alma Mater dear.
We're the students of Old Martin,
College old and dear,
With our faces all set onward
Voices ringing clear.*

*Broad the fields about us lying,
Soft and blue the sky,
Sing, O sing aloud her praises
Raise the flag on high.
Though our bonds can ne'er be broken,
Sealed by friendship's tie,
Our true hearts will ever cherish
Memories gone by.*
